Susanne Buri's activities are like a red thread in the main topic of health policy. She focuses on these five sectors: Health, Ageing, Social, Education and Insurance. Susanne Buri supports top committees in filling boards of directors and management positions. Her activities include non-profit and association organisations as well as public administrations at all levels.

Susanne Buri studied Business Administration, Management, Leadership, Management and Politics in Health Care (Master of Advanced Studies in Health Service Management) at the University of Applied Sciences St. Gallen. She did this on the basis of training with the Association of Swiss Social Security Experts (SVS) and various engagements such as Compasso, Network Business for Professional Women, International Center for Corporate Governance.

Her passion for bringing together top companies and top people is also her success, because Susanne Buri can build on triple practice: On many years of commitment in small (former SME entrepreneur) and large (management of health and employability of two groups), on versatile consulting and lecturing with correspondingly networked work and knowledge in economy and administration and last but not least 5 years of professional experience in executive search.
